Biodiversity is not evenly distributed, rather it varies greatly across the globe as well as within regions. Among other factors, the diversity of all living things depends on temperature, precipitation, altitude, soils, geography and the presence of other species. The study of the spatial distribution of organisms, species and ecosystems, is the science of biogeography.

The internal and external factor evaluation matrices have been introduced by Fred R. David in his book 'Strategic Management' [1] (at least I found them there and couldn't trace their origins anywhere else). According to the author, both tools are used to summarize the information gained from company's external and internal environment analyses.
