It's a bit stupid, because I have Venus in Leo, myself. I was so focused on this other chart I didn't even think about this when I explained the effects. If you're having this transit now or next year, you'll want to judge your own tastes (Venus) and/or tactics (Mars). People get stuck. Especially the Fixed signs.

A human mission to Mars has been the subject of science fiction since the 1880s, and of aerospace engineering and scientific proposals since the late 1940s. Plans include landing on Mars for exploration at a minimum, with some considering exploring its moons Phobos and Deimos. [citation needed] Longterm proposals have included sending settlers and starting terraforming the planet.
